Description of termination:	THALES DIS AIS Deutschland GmbH is forced to inform its customers that above mentioned product variants are terminated on short notice.  Due to a decommitment of the key baseband supplier and a lack of compatible alternatives Thales will stop production for that platform.  Unfortunately no option for last time buy can be given.  Thales offers the EXS62 products and the coming TN23 which will be available in Q2 2022 as migration options.  For further details or migration support to another Thales module platform please contact your local sales representative.
